2023-08-24

On the afternoon of August 24, 2023, the Specialized Committee on Mergers, Acquisitions and Reorganizations of Beijing Tiantai Law Firm organized some representatives of colleagues to visit and investigate Huawei's Research Institute in Beijing, to understand the development concept of Huawei and experience the infinite charm of the digital world.

Huawei's experts gave us a detailed introduction of Huawei's strategy and core values, "Bring the digital world to every person, family, and organization, and build an intelligent world where everything is connected". According to their introduction, the total R&D investment in 2022 was 161.5 billion yuan, with an R&D expense ratio of 25.1%, and the total R&D investment in the past ten years was up to 977.3 billion. Huawei's huge investment has blossomed and achieved fruitful results in various fields. Afterwards, we visited the exhibition halls of Smart City, Smart Healthcare, Huawei Cloud, and Intelligent Networked Vehicles, and experienced the application of AI in different fields such as city management, social security, logistics and warehousing, ports, and underground operations. Among them, Huawei's big data platform for government affairs, developed by the company's Smart City Program and landed in Shenzhen, has brought great convenience to city managers. By updating data in real time, city managers can keep abreast of detailed information such as population mobility and security risks, and realize the perception of the city's operational status, unified scheduling of urban resources, and panoramic command of emergencies. In doing so, the efficiency of city workers and the city's safety and service guarantees are greatly improved.

The visit to Huawei made the lawyers realize the importance of knowing more about the business model of the clients they serve and the latest and most cutting-edge development of the clients, so that they can tap into the changes of the clients' legal needs more sensitively, and continue to build up their own professional service capabilities. Ultimately, they can provide the most valuable professional legal services and satisfy all the clients!
